ISO Meeting List Issue

4/3 – 7:10 PM

Hello everyone, I hope you have survived the winter and are ready for spring. I just had a caller on the hotline who was outside a meeting location that is listed on the ISO website list of meetings and no one was there. This is not the first time this has happened, so I am asking that all trustees make sure the ISO website is up to date for the meetings in your area. The website committee and hotline volunteers use this resource to send callers to a meeting. I don't want the caller tonight to be discouraged because we sent them to a defunct meeting. Some people have to travel considerable distances and we need to provide them accurate information.

Thank you in advance for your time and effort on this matter.

Sincerely,
Paul S

Same Old Problems

4/12 – 1:30 PM

Hi all,

After all these years, it really is saddening to read about the same old problems cropping up in GA with no concrete solutions to fix them by the Trustees and membership. As Tom M. mentioned in a previous post 'it really is a bitch session by a very few'. What happened to constructive criticism and presenting answers to problems instead of complaining?

What saddens me the most is the lack of interest in area groups to host an international conference in conjunction with a Trustee's meeting. What's with that?

Yours in GA,
Henry I.
